BANK TO OPEN SECOND UNIT HERE MONDAY

J. A. Buhler to Manage Bank of America's Newest Branch

Temporary quarters for the new California-Broadway Branch of the Bank of America will be opened Monday, January 25, with J. A. Buhler, now assistant cashier at the Redwood City branch, in charge.

Albert Oneto, of the Redwood City branch, has also been assigned to the new branch.

Until permanent quarters, equipped with safe deposit boxes and other conveniences of a modern banking service, are ready, the temporary branch will care for the needs of this rapidly expanding Redwood City neighborhood. The quarters will be located at 2607 Broadway, in the building just vacated by Beder's. Alterations are already underway there.

Buhler, who will be in charge of the temporary quarters, has a wide acquaintance in the Redwood City area, having been on the staff of the Bank of America, Redwood City branch, since 1929. He is active in the Exchange Club and is also on the board of governors of Peninsula Chapter, American Institute of Banking.

Oneto has been associated with the bank's local branch for more than 10 years.

J. E. Morrish, manager of the Redwood City branch, and the new staff will greet friends at an informal inspection of the new quarters on Saturday, January 23.

JUDGE INDICATES 18 FRAZER 'HEIRS' STILL TO GET ESTATE

Not impressed by accusations that "phoney" evidence had been presented to him during the long Frazer estate contest, Judge Maxwell McNutt late Monday afternoon ordered hearing on a motion for new trial continued to February 8.

At this time he will also hear a motion for distribution of the $244,594 fortune left by the mystery Palo Alto merchant.

"And although I am not disturbed in the slightest degree over any arguments as to whom James Frazer was, there may be some argument still as to the participatory shares in the estate," Judge McNutt said after hearing an impassioned plea by Atty. George Harris of San Francisco, asking him "in all earnestness for a chance to present more evidence."

It was Harris who led the attack on the faded documents presented as evidence by Attys. C. B. Wooster of San Jose and Nelson Tunnicliff of San Mateo, counsel for the 18 successful claimants to the estate, winners in a field of over 50 participants in one of the most romantic heirship battles in the legal history of San Mateo county.

Referring to the letters with which the Tunnicliff counsel seeks to link Frazer to Martha Frazer of London, a sister to whom he futilely wrote for funds, Harris reiterated his charges of forgery and tampering with evidence.

"Those letters are 'phonies,' judge. They're not the truth," he concluded.

During the hearing, Attorney Wooster complained to the court that the attempts to bring a reopening of the case amounted to efforts to force a compromise and a settlement.

"We will not compromise," both Wooster and Tunnicliff declared emphatically. Both charged further that they had been approached out of court for settlements.

Atty. J. A. Pritchard of San Francisco was another seeking the new trial. With Harris he attacked the validity of the family tree which Jane Wilson, Frazer's sister, according to Tunnicliff and Wooster, swore was that of Frazer and her family.

"You can't try a case like this putting pedigrees in evidence," Harris protested to Judge McNutt, who countered by asking why these protests were not made at the time Jane Wilson's deposition was taken.

This deposition was another point which Harris attacked, since it gave opposing attorneys no chance to cross question the witness.

"Through cross-examination we would have proved there was no relationship between Frazer and Jane Wilson," Harris argued.

"I am not stubborn about this matter," Judge McNutt said, "but until some legal evidence is presented to me that the family tree is not what Jane Wilson swore it was, I am going to believe it."

S. M. May Vote On Union Move

SAN MATEO, Jan. 19.—Appearance of an initiative measure on the San Mateo city ballot in the April municipal election appeared likely today with the Central Labor Council of San Mateo county demanding that the city charter be amended to provide equal wage and working compensation for laborers employed on public works projects.

Four measures calling for an eight-hour day, pay comparable to union wages, citizenship and one-year local resident qualifications were presented to the San Mateo City Council last night, but the council, on advice of City Attorney Ernest Wilson, refused to grant the request.

Wilson pointed out the measures would only duplicate existing state laws and would complicate the city charter.

The union, represented by Attorney Bernard Sharon of San Mateo, asked that the measures be placed on the ballot. Sharon declared San Francisco has a similar provision incorporated in the city statutes.

When refused by the council, Sharon declared the union would force the issue through an initiative petition of signatures of 15 per cent of the registered voters.

The petitions must be presented to the council on or before February 1 to comply with the law making it mandatory they be submitted 60 days in advance of the election.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

For over twenty years St. Joseph's Alumni has held reunions at the convent school. Here the former students meet school mates of other days and their teachers. This is a big event in the life of the alumni. The annual affair took place this year Sunday afternoon. About 100 of the old pupils were present and were greeted by the superintendent. Mother Foley, and her staff. After the greetings were over the election of officers took place. The following were chosen for the new term: Joseph Sullivan, president; Jenevieve Storick, vice-president; Mary Beeler, secretary; George Walsh, treasurer; John Tuttle, sergeant at arms. In the absence of a program, speeches were made by Father McQueon and Father Raber, who eloquently told of the work being done by the alumni. Mother Foley, who has been the superintendent for many years, is never so happy as on these occasions to once again mingle with and encourage her former pupils. She was presented with a well filled purse for which she showed deep appreciation in a neat address. Refreshments were served then to the boys and girls of the organization.

The marriage of R. W. King, manager of the Safeway Store in Menlo Park, and Miss Anne Gilcrest, pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Gilcrest, has been announced. The wedding will take place shortly and a home for the young couple is being prepared in Menlo Park.

After an illness of over a year, Thomas A. Sullivan, a Menlo Park real estate operator with offices in San Francisco, passed away at the home of his brother, J. H. Sullivan, in Menlo Park Sunday morning. The funeral was held at the Church of the Nativity at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday and the burial was in the family plot in the Santa Clara Catholic cemetery. Fifty-four years ago Mr. Sullivan was born in San Jose and after leaving school he learned the plumbers' trade and for several years was engaged in the plumbing business in San Jose. Mr. Sullivan was a highly religious man, devoted to the tenets of the Catholic Church. His sister, a nun in an Oakland convent, preceded him to the grave a few years ago. The deceased is survived by his brother, J. H. Sullivan, two nieces, Mrs. Harry Morey and Miss Agnes Sullivan and three nephews, Joseph, Desmond and Francis Sullivan.

The branch Bank of America will open in the Derry Building on the highway the first of the month. The staff will be recruited from the Palo Alto and Redwood City branches of that institution.

Arrangements are being made for the annual celebration of St. Patrick's Day on March 17. A play is to be given by the talent now being selected.

F. W. Johnson, who has been quite ill, is able to be around again.

Florence Danford Boyle, grand president N.D.G.W. paid her official visit to Menlo Parlor N.D.G.W. Monday night. A good representation was present and they were well paid for coming out in the unusually cold weather. The grand president gave a most inspiring talk. Two candidates were initiated and the grand president complimented the officers of Menlo Parlor for their exemplification of the ritual. The new members are Josephine Walsh and Mary Long.

A delightful buffet supper was served after the meeting. The decorations were in red, gold and white and were a great credit to the decorations' committee.

Shells Peril Fire Fighters

Puzzled by the occurance of two fires within three days on the Henry Finkler estate on Canyon road near Redwood City, San Mateo county firemen today were investigating the possibility of incendiary origin of the blaze, last of which submitted the firemen to an unexpected bombardment by shotgun shells.

"There is something very peculiar—something very fishy about those two fires," Fire Warden Bert Werder declared.

Late Saturday afternoon the county department received a call—their first in more than a month—to extinguish a blaze in a barn on the estate, once the center of long drawn out court litigation that begin when Finkler, state supreme court clerk, committed suicide several years ago.

The second call to the estate, situated a mile and a half past the city limits on Whipple road, came at 6:05 o'clock Monday night.

A four-stall garage and an oil shed were destroyed by the flames. Cartridges stored in the garage with a grand piano, saddles and sports equipment, exploded in the flames, providing what Dispatcher Walter Smith described as a "miniature Fourth of July celebration."

Periling the fire fighters was the presence of a 500-gallon tank of gasoline located underneath the oil shed. Had this exploded, according to Werder, the flames might have been thrown to the nearby servants' residence.

The firemen estimated the damage at about $5000.

The estate is now owned by E. Grant Taylor of Berkeley, present supreme court clerk, and M. J. Purcell of San Francisco.

BURGLAR GETS ONE YEAR

Having pleaded guilty to second degree burglary of a Burlingame house, Lawrence Branzetti was sentenced by Judge Maxwell McNutt here Monday to serve one year in the county jail. Judge McNutt denied Branzetti's request for probation.

Junior College Merger Opposed At Emerald Lake

Unanimous opposition to Sequoia high school district's being consolidated with the San Mateo Junior College district—a proposal upon which residents of this district will vote February 2—was voted Tuesday night by theh board of directors of Highland District Improvement Club, organization of Emerald Lake district residents.

Notice of action of the board will be sent to each of the club's 407 active members, Mrs. J. Blanche Ball, second vice president, reported.

On the board of directors besides Mrs. Ball are Norman Robotham, president; A. T. Smith, first vice president; Furber Libby, third vice president; Stuart Copps, secretary, and M. A. Harris, A. D. McBride, A. W. Pike, George Lent, Wendall A. Ebner, Townley Ball, E. A. Michel and Alexander Bell.

The club was the second large organization to take a stand on the merger proposal, the Sequoia Parent-Teacher Association having approved the measure.

Mrs. Ball reported that the Highlands club is launching an ambitious program of beautification of the district, looking towards completion of the plan by time of the 1939 World's Fair. Tree, shrub and vine planting will be principal features of the program. Mrs. Ball is chairman of the club's landscape committee.

APPOINTMENT OF PERMANENT PORT COMMISSION EXPECTED

Possibility that a permanent port commission to administer the Redwood City Harbor, now in process of construction, may be appointed at the next meeting of the city council February 1 was seen today following approval in the legislature of amendments voted last June 11 at the harbor election creating such a commission.

The senate approved the amendments yesterday, and the legislature was expected to approve them today.

City Atty. Albert Mansfield reported to the council Monday night that immediately upon ratification of the amendments by the legislature, Acting City Manager C. L. Dimmitt could submit his recommendations for appointments to the port commission. They must be ratified by the council.

Serving in a temporary capacity on the commission, pending approval of the amendments, are E. B. Hinman, chairman; A. B. Cheatham, Maj. H. W. Edmonds, Elmer A. Hurrell and John McCarthy. Whether they will be appointed to the permanent commission is up to Manager Dimmitt.

The commissioners would take office 30 days after ratification of the amendments.

Also before the legislature is the amendment removing the one-year experience qualification from the city managership. Its ratification is expected to bring about appointment of Dimmitt as permanent city manager. Another amendment up is to change municipal elections here from Mondays to Tuesdays, in conformance with other cities in the county.

First phase of work on the port has been completed, Dimmitt reported to the council. That consisted of the driving of "test piles" to determine how deep piling must be set at the port. Nine piles have been driven and the pile driver has now departed. Ninety-foot piles must be used, it has been determined. Until the maritime strike is settled, this phase of the port work will be at a standstill, since the rest of the 536 creosoted piling needed must be shipped here from Washington. The test piles were taken out of stock owned by the Healy-Tibbitts Construction Company.

In the meantime, however, Dimmitt said, work may proceed soon on the "rock rip-rap"—protection along the top of the bank to stabilize it.

Public ceremonies commemorating start of the work have not been planned for this time, it was explained, because of condition of the area adjacent to the port due to the heavy rains. Existing roads do not lead to the port site proper, and to reach it, a walk through mud is necessary.

Calling of an election in the port area to bring banks of the creeks into the city so that it may have control over them was postponed by the council until the next meeting two weeks hence.

Mayor Paul McCarthy and Port Commissioner Cheatham reported in answer to questions that consideration has been given to the securing of business for the port and that several persons as possible port managers have been discussed, but no recommendations made or action taken as yet.

LIONS' PLANS TO BEAUTIFY ROAD TOLD

State Approval Asked Of Scheme to Plant Trees on Bayshore

In the hands of Col. John H. Skeggs, division engineer of the state highway commission, were placed diagrams today drawn by the Redwood City Lions Club roadside planning and beautification committee showing plans for the planting of redwood trees and shrubs within the city limits along Bayshore highway.

Following detailed study by Les Wolbert, chairman, and Carl Britschgi and Tom Joaquin, members of the Lions' committee, a plan was submitted to plant Sequoia "semper virem" redwood trees and Buddleia and cotoneaster shrubs.

Horticulturists advised that this tree and the shrubs would be most suitable for the locality.

Chairman Wolbert said that his committee had recommended "group planting" similar to that now used in the planting of cypress trees along the Bayshore highway south of Redwood City. The shrubs will be interspersed between the clusters of redwood trees.

With the hope of being able to make a showing of city beautification before the heavy tourist traffic that will flood the Bayshore highway in 1939 for the San Francisco international exposition, the Lions said they are only awaiting approval of the plans by the commission before presenting them to the city council and planning commission.

Wolbert said the Lions expect to furnish the trees, and hope that the city will do the planting.

Turns Against Signal Banned

To afford greater protection both to pedestrians and to motorists, the city council Monday voted to prohibit right turns against the signal at the two city intersections where automatic signals and lights are installed — Broadway and El Camino Real and at Five Points, a half mile south.

At the same time, the council asked Police Chief C. L. Collins to enforce the new ruling.

Signs which now inform motorists that "right turn, go" is legal will be removed, under terms of the motion offered by Councilman James Eva and seconded by Councilman George McNulty. Councilman Evans A. Fletcher alone opposed the motion, pointing out that traffic would be materially slowed down by the change, especially on Broadway, where traffic already is badly crowded.

Other councilmen contended, however, that the permitting of machines to make right turns against the red light endangered pedestrians. It was also reported that such signs are illegal; that right turns against signals are not within the highway laws.

Another traffic safety move renewed by the council came also upon suggestion of Councilman Eva. It was that the move to secure better grade crossing protection be considered again now that the question of removal of the depot has been settled.

Following considerable discussion, it was decided, upon suggestion of Police Chief Collins, that opinion of the railroad commission as to the safest type of signals—manually controlled or automatic—be sought before further action is taken. Further consideration of the problem was set for the next meeting.

Other council business.

Authorized City Attorney Mansfield to submit an ordinance regulating tourist trailers within the city, much as has been done in Burlingame, San Mateo and other cities.

Bed Rest Urged As Surest Cure For Colds, 'Flu'

Truth of that adage about "Early to bed—" is being proved in San Mateo county these days in an entirely different manner from that which its author intended.

Dr. Charles C. Gans, county health director, following a conference with physicians, reported today that victims of colds and mild influenza, now prevalent, are finding the "early to bed" plan a good one.

The director said physicians informed him that victims who took to their beds as soon as they felt colds coming on, soon were well. Of the many cases reported, he added, only a few had assumed serious aspects, and these could be traced to the fact that the victims neglected to take the necessary precautions.

The director urged parents to keep children with colds home from school, pointing out that in so doing they were not only safeguarding their own children, but preventing others from catching the cold. In addition the director strongly urged adults suffering with colds to keep away from other persons.

Say! who reads the ads anyway?

There they are, next to the play-by-play dope on the ball game, cutting off the news of So-and-So's engagement party so you have to jump clear to the middle of the next column to finish it. Those ads! You know who runs them, their signatures are on 'em—but who reads 'em anyway? The printer? That's right—but shucks, he's paid to! And the advertiser—sure, he reads them to see if the paper got the prices right. Who else? What's the great American ad-reader look like? Who reads the ads? Let's solve the mystery . . . and see!

This fellow's income is 'way above average: there are not many like him, we'll admit. Retired from real estate last year; survived the depression nicely, thank you, and will be back from Hawaii in September. Gets a kick out of picking up $7 shirts for $3.79 by waiting for the sales. Reads the ads—not every day—but wouldn't think of buying without checking the price and quality against every value in the paper.

Remember her debut party? She'll be back at Stanford in the fall; right now she's pretty busy, what with the little car a Tribune ad helped sell her Dad, the places all the crowd goes to (they say the boys pick them from the Tribune), and the show her club gives every summer. To date she's tracked down material for costumes, arranged for tickets, and has practically closed a deal with a florist . . . all through the Tribune!

She likes to say that the children are grown up and out of the way now . . . but just watch her smile when she sees an ad for print wash frocks . . . size 2 to 6! Keeps a gift list that touches almost every day of the calendar, and half the dates are for children! Entertains a lot, too, and manages to belong to quite a few of the clubs. Proud of her home, and not a bit unwilling to take advantage of a bargain for it when the Tribune backs it up!

Hers is a pretty complete little world, of course. Two children, a busy young husband, a new house . . . a little dominion that's pretty hard to crash. But she's made the Tribune a welcome intruder. Where else, she asks, would she find the same help in keeping a not-too-big budget straight . . . how else could she keep the house looking so newly furnished on so little . . . what other source would be so obliging about tipping her off on dozens of sales every day.

Still prefers the comics, but graduated into the ad reading class last year, when he decided he wanted a prep suit like the one his buddy Charlie got. Has since found quite a few things he's going to own some day. Sold on one make of bicycle right now, and a certain page of the Tribune has a way of popping up in a prominent place each night about the time that Dad's due home.

Belongs to one of Redwood City's service clubs, has kept a good business going for a number of years, and has a son who's going into the business some day soon. Makes a hobby of his place up at the lake, and won't let a gun or tackle ad out of his sight till he's read it all the way through. Finds the Tribune ads a good indication of business conditions in the city . . . as well as an effective medium for his own business.

Still in school, but looking forward to the day when he can buy his first car. Just at present quite satisfied with the buys he finds in sporting goods in the Tribune. Interested in what the well dressed young man should wear, and willing to do a little research in the subject. (It's whispered that she lives just a block or two away). Working the family pretty hard for the trip South that he read about in an ad in the Tribune.

Had a tough time a couple of years ago. But he found a job through the "Help Wanted" section in the classifieds, and he and the wife have been reading the ads for one reason or another ever since. First it was the new furnture they needed when they stopped "doubling up" with her folks, then they needed a used car, and right now, since things look better at the plant and there's another nest egg laid away, they're looking for another house.

The answer, of course, can be briefly told; everybody reads the ads each day in

The

Redwood City Tribune

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

Pretty shrewd, this youngster! Kind of hated to leave the city and go back to the farm, but he's managed to combine the advantages of both places in just a few short years. First saw the radio he now owns in a Tribune ad. Installed a bathroom after a Tribune ad told him how inexpensive the fixtures would be. Found that he'd save time by trading in the old truck on a light pick-up that a Redwood City dealer advertised. And he saved money on the reaper that he picked out of the want-ads!

Not too many free hours in her life! But the Tribune makes every one of them do double duty, when she starts off on a shopping tour. Clothes have to be smarter, to make up for hours spent in a uniform; cosmetics have to be better, to pass her rigid inspection; everything she buys must get by a sentry-like insistence on perfection. She learned back in her student days that she could rely on Tribune ads, and she's learned since that she can depend on them to save her off-duty time.

It's a date! And that, as any bright young member of Sequoia High will tell you, means a trip through the Tribune ads. It may be for some new hose . . . for a place to have the white coat cleaned . . . for something really different to wear if it's a dance. But whatever the occasion, it's reason enough for a trip through the ad pages, especially when it's almost as much fun as a shopping expedition, and saves the strain on next week's allowance.

"You wouldn't catch me reading the ads . . . just a waste of my valuable time." Oh oh! Puts us in a bad spot. Your photo must have gotten in here by mistake. Sorry . . . hey, wait a minute! . . . that tie you've got on . . . didn't we see that pattern advertised about a week ago? Uh-huh . . . well, we thought so!

Slayer of Rosellini Is Held to Answer

Held to answer on a reduced charge of manslaughter after his counsel had pleaded that there was no motive for murder, Joseph Rosellini, 40, San Francisco cafe owner was in the San Francisco jail today pending posting of $1000 cash bail. Rosellini allegedly shot and killed Settimo Angelini of Colma on New Year's Eve following an argument.

Flames Damage Tognoli Home On Manzanita

Damage estimated at $500 was done by fire to the residence of Charles Tognoli, 29 Manzanita street, owner of a Five Points cafe, shortly after nine Tuesday morning, when firemen were called to quell a blaze they reported probably started from the water heater.

Finding the roof aflame, and smoke pouring from the windows, firemen quickly doused the blaze but only after the attic, a quarter of the roof, and a portion of the kitchen ceiling had burned.

Since the fire had apparently started in the kitchen, spreading up through the attic to the roof, its origin was traced to the water heater flue. It was not learned who had sent in the alarm, as residents hadn't discovered the flames until the firemen were on their way.

At 6:45 o'clock last night firemen were called to a home at 829 Brewster where Mrs. J. K. Jeffress reported that she believed her basement water heater was afire, she having seen a glow coming from the basement. Firemen learned on arrival, however, that the Mr. Jeffress, unbeknownst to his wife, had gone to the basement with a flashlight to investigate what he thought was a gas leak, and that the glow from the light had been what Mrs. Jeffress had seen and believed was a fire.

Dissatisfaction Over Omission Of County Told

Severe censorship of the state highway commission in omitting San Mateo county from its road budget for the 1937-1939 biennium was voiced Monday by the board of supervisors.

Meanwhile the board mapped the fight for placing at least widening of El Camino Real from Redwood City south on the budget which has only been tentatively approved.

Supervisor Fred Beer, acting as chairman pro tem in the absence of Hugh H. Smith, ill with influenza, Supervisor James S. James and Engineer U. S. Marshall joined in outspoken criticism of the highway commission.

'ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE'

Beer directed his reproach at the commission's apparent decision to halt the widening of El Camino Real at Redwood City, Broadway being the terminal point of work now underway between Beresford and Redwood City.

"It is absolutely unbelievable," Beer said, "that they could contemplate such a thing as having a four-lane highway that is a main arterial continue to pour into a two-lane highway from Broadway to Five Points."

"At least the present work must be carried to Five Points."

James, offering what he said was the first "dissenting note" the new board has heard, criticised a letter of Engineer Marshall who pointed out in the communication that according to population comparisons with other counties, San Mateo county had been sorely neglected as to a share in the road funds.

"It would be fatal to base our protest to the highway commission on population figures," James declared.

"The funds are allocated according to the counties' needs for highways. Engineer Marshall's letter has received unfavorable comment from several of the highway commission officials."

URGES 'FORCIBLE' ACTION

Marshall, urging that "something forcible" be done to remedy the "slight," said his study of population figures proved only that San Mateo county had been placed in a category with four isolated counties in the northern part of the state, also omitted in the budget.

Result of the discussion was a motion by Supervisor James that Marshall's letter be filed and referred to a road committee which is yet to be appointed by Chairman Smith, and that this committee be empowered to attend a meeting at Salinas early in February of the Central Coast Council of the California State Chamber of Commerce. This body has gone on record as backing the widening of El Camino Real as one of five projects which must be added to the commission budget.

El Camino Real Sign Restoration Opposed

Although still hopeful of finding a satisfactory solution to the problem, State Senator Harry L. Parkman of San Mateo wrote the county board of supervisors Monday that he is meeting strong administration opposition in his attempts to seek removal of the "alternate 101" signs on El Camino Real.

Parkman reported that the Federal Commission of Highways is in opposition to any other than "alternate" signs being placed on duplicating highways in California and other states.

The commission had also expressed disapproval of a plan pushed by Parkman to have Bayshore highway designated as 101 East and El Camino Real as 101 West, the senator set forth.

Barneson Estate Near 3 Millions, Appraisal States

Appraisal of the estate left by Harriett E. Barneson of Hillsborough, wife of a wealthy oil man, was appraised here in San Mateo County Superior Court at $2,758,820.

Atty. Bradford Melvin's report listed $600,000 worth of oil stocks, with the rest of the estate consisting of other stocks and real estate in Atherton, San Francisco, Burbank and Hillsborough.

The oil stock will go to Capt. John Barneson of Hillsborough, her husband, while the balance of the estate will be placed in trust, with the income going in equal portions to the four Barneson sons and daughters, J. Leslie and Harold J. Barneson, of Los Angeles, and Lionel J. and Muriel Barneson, of Hillsborough.

POLICEMAN IMPROVES

BURLINGAME, Jan. 18—Police Officer Lawrence Furio, reported sinking Saturday following complications which set in after an emergency appendicitis operation at St. Luke's Hospital a week ago, had rallied today and was reported in "much better condition" at the San Francisco hospital.

Charter Violation? Attorney Says Not

Placed today on the agenda for the Monday meeting of the Board of Supervisors was a letter from W. F. Troy of Daly City, who charges that Justice of the Peace Wade H. Clay of that city is violating the charter in holding two jobs, one elective and the other as police judge of Daly City.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel Sullivan pointed out, however, that there is no charter violation in holding positions of judge and justice of the peace.

Mrs. M. Warren of Pawnee City, Neb., turned her 640-acre farm which this year produced 17,000 bushels of wheat into grass for next year to save it from erosion.
